Kathryn J. LeMaster Art & Design
Kathryn J. LeMaster
North Little Rock

Though Kathryn LeMaster designed for the Conway Symphony Orchestra Designer House in 2010, this is her first year joining the ranks of the Arkansas Symphony Designer House. For the restroom located just off the mudroom, LeMaster created a refreshing oasis to calm, inspire and rejuvenate anyone who enters. A soothing gray palette, white quartz countertops and a sleek glass vessel sink with a waterfall faucet add sophistication, while custom fabrics and artwork give the space a cozy feel. Vintage accessories and natural woods offset the sleeker pieces, making the space feel collected and personal.

FAMILY STUDY

West Interiors
Larry West
Little Rock

Designer Larry West has come a long way since designing his sister's Barbie dollhouse in elementary school. He says he hasn't stopped decorating since, and particularly loves creating spaces for high-profile events and weddings. He first began participating in the Symphony Designer House in the mid-1990s, and after a brief hiatus, is glad to be back this year. In the family study, West used an eclectic collection of furnishings, including a vintage sofa reupholstered in orange ultra suede and a Taylor Kind double chair. An ottoman from White Furniture and Zuo glass side tables complement the abstract art by Dine and Max, while wall disks from Urban Pad pull the color scheme together. See his ad on page 9.
